A BATTLE

OKAY, I'LL CUT TO THE CHASE:

WE. NEED. REDRAWERS.

AND WE NEED THEM FAST.

FOR IMPOSSIBILITY DEFENCE. (++)

FOR GOD, YOU BASTARD, I WANNA KILL YOU. (+)

FOR SHOUNEN Y. (+)

AN EXTRA ONE FOR SARU LOCK. (++)

AND ONE FOR RAIN. (++)

OUR TEST IS AT <https://goo.gl/qfnsc6>

FOR SERIES MARKED (++) , DO ALL PAGES. FOR THOSE MARKED (+) , YOU CAN LEAVE OUT THE ONES LABELLED "DIFFICULT".

PLEASE SUBMIT THE PSD FILES WITH YOUR APPLICATION BUNDLED IN A COMPRESSED FOLDER (RAR, ZIP, 7Z, WHATEVER) AND SEND IT AS A DOWNLOAD LINK TO ME AS A PM (WRAITH A DEATHTOLLSCANS.NET, KENDAMA AT BATOTO), OR POST IT HERE: <https://goo.gl/jkE13V>

I'M NOT KIDDING. THE SITUATION IS DIRE. WE HAVE AROUND NINE TRANSLATORS AND NEED REDRAWERS TO KEEP UP. WE CAN STILL MAKE RELEASES OF THE SERIES ABOVE BECAUSE WE GOT A NEW REDRAWER, BUT THE PACE WILL BE SLOW UNLESS SOMEONE APPLIES.

IF YOU ARE EXPERIENCED, CONTACT ME TO KNOW OF WAYS OF BYPASSING THE TEST.

Okay, we admit defeat. While it's impossible to say whether they are the majority of readers or just a noisy minority, the fact is that our margin notes on this series triggered enough people into doing something that their response pretty much overwhelmed us.

Of course, I don't mean Abedeus, who's probably flattering himself in Reddit saying his bitchy nerts got under our skin. If he had read the comment section on Destroy and Revolution, which we scanned to completion in spite of the shitstorm, he'd know we regard his behaviour as quite entertaining.

And while PickVerPosen left us reeling in disbelief that someone could be so stupid as to spend their free time targeting our notes and patching them over with the ruses, that was fun to watch, too. I was even thinking of resizing the pages by random percentage factors so that he'd have to resize the patches manually, thus increasing significantly the amount of work. That would have been fun...

In any case, we lose. And because there's nothing losers can do other than show grace in defeat, we duly do so... and exit, stage left.

As of this release, Satanophany is dropped. Death Toll is no longer going to scanlate it. First time in a few years we drop a series, too.

I'm sure some will say we're ragquitting. You'll have to take my word for it, but it's more along the lines of "shrugging". Let me explain.

What defeated us was this comment by Jason Arsenault in the Kissmanga comment section on chapter 11:

"Stopping whiteknighting for trollsauce. It's pathetic. Besides, another group is picking this up anyway." (Emphasis mine.)

One of my mentor figures in scanlation, the great Rayel, once told me when I was fretting about the possibility of another group picking up a series of ours: "Nothing we can do if they do it".

The message here is not giving up without a fight. It's simply, "Nobody is indispensable".

Death Toll's series are too obscure, and too hard to edit on average, so we hardly ever have one of them snatched from us. And of course, if it is something we hold dear, we'll fight tooth and nail. But when I told the team about that post, these were the responses I got:

Kezbi: I don't care, I don't know why I am still translating this anyway.

Comcryan: I'm only still proofreading this for the notes.

Yathen: ...

Ayamex: I could care less.

We don't know who the other team are, but given this response, we say: godspeed them!

And until they begin releasing, all enquiries regarding scanlating this series are referred to Mr Arsenault in Kissmanga.

But what if that's just a bluff or an unfounded rumour, you may ask? Doesn't that mean we were just looking for an excuse to drop this, anyway?

Indeed it does. Nobody is denying that. But the fact of the matter is that until Mr Arsenault's post came, there was no such excuse we could avail ourselves of. Since we only began doing this series because of heartfelt requests from readers, we kinda felt we'd be stuck with it and there would be nobody to rescue us. We're glad to be proven wrong.

In any case, I don't think it's a bluff or an unfounded rumour. The truth is, while this series is nonsense, it's such nonsense. Our experience with Deathtopia, by the same author, demonstrated to us the power of such: there are many, many skilled people who love this kind of series, so it makes total sense that some of them got triggered by the notes and decided to take it from us. And even if Mr Arsenault himself was bluffing, we doubt this series will be left orphan for long.

So, to the other group, whoever they are, I say: there was no need to plot a hostile takeover, and no need to breach scanlation etiquette. If you had asked, all could have been solved without awkwardness. Be our guests and have fun! :D

I think it's a win-win situation. We drop a (we'dly) series we didn't care about, leaving you with a nice cliffhanger and showcasing the amazing skill of our rednower, Ayamex, in the double spread of chapter 12, and you get the series scanlated by a group that won't denide it in margin notes. The new group gets visibility and the gratitude of readers. Abedeus and PickVerPosen get to tell everyone who bothers to listen that they chased us away from the series, and everyone will be happy! :o)

By the way, this message isn't a bluff, either. Comcryan and Kezbi have moved on to working on a new project, which they actually like (so no notes). Yathen went on holidays and Ayamex will take a brief rest before being reassigned to something more interesting than this. The whole SP team is thus disbanded to do other stuff in Death Toll. There will be no coming back.

To those who were indifferent or relished the notes, we say: hang in there, the new team (according to Mr Arsenault) is coming!

Peace!
